Serving Our Community

Presented by Leticia Mata
“People Helping People”

Orange County’s Credit Union is more than a financial institution. We’re inspired by the credit union philosophy of “people helping people” to give back to the communities in which we serve. Whether it’s volunteering time, partnering with community organizations, or hosting financial literacy workshops, we believe in the importance of truly making a difference every day.
Overview

• One of our key goals is to help serve our diverse communities and membership. Together we can help make a difference. This is being done through education and volunteerism.
Financial Education

• Working together with our members, employer groups and community we help others become confident and in control of their finances. Orange County’s Credit Union works with community-based organizations, Cities, Schools and local employer groups to deliver valuable financial education to the community and its families.
